

BOTTLE & JAR CONTAINERS

Mission

To provide our clients with the best custom packaging for their products built to their specifications, but also in a way that saves our clients both the time and energy to focus on their real goal - building their business.

At Akey Group, we have a deep understanding that packaging and logistic operations of your business can be both challenging and expensive. Especially with a smaller business that is trying to get started in a competitive market, finding the right packaging and branding for your product is key to making an impression on your target audience.

With our origins rooted in a smaller family-owned business, we possess a deep understanding of hurdles that emerges from upcoming businesses. That’s why our purpose is to help overcome these common issues that businesses may face.

Focus

Quality: Our aim is to ensure high-quality product packaging and production with the help of our in-house specialists who oversee the entire process.

Customization: We offer customized packaging solutions to match your business image and encourage transparency by inviting clients to visit our facilities.

Efficiency: Our experienced and well-trained staff guarantees efficient production management and logistical support.

JY_JY223
30ml, 50ml

Product Description

The round cream jar is crafted from high-quality PP material, ensuring strong chemical resistance and excellent stability, making it suitable for a wide range of cosmetics and personal skincare products. The JY_223 series cream container boasts a sleek and sophisticated design that surpasses traditional jars. The thick-walled body perfectly presents the semi-transparent white jade color of PMMA, while the PE liner inside the lid enhances the airtight seal, prevents leakage, and elevates the product's resistance to contamination. The JY_223 series round jars come in versatile sizes, with options for 30ml and 50ml capacities. Additionally, we offer customization services, allowing you to choose product injection color, printing, special processing, and more.

Product Description

Introducing our High-End Sealed Cream Jars, available in three versatile capacities to meet the unique demands of your brand. These jars redefine sophistication and functionality with a built-in scraper under the lid, easily removable for application. When not in use, the scraper neatly stores in the lid, ensuring cleanliness and hygiene. The tear-off cap design maintains a vacuum seal for the product, preserving its freshness until opened. Ideal for creamy formulations like makeup removers and peel-off masks, these jars offer both convenience and elegance. Elevate your product presentation with our High-End Sealed Cream Jars – where innovation meets practicality for a seamless and luxurious beauty experience.
